

THIS IS RESEARCH

#LIWYFTTG

Ryan Rice, Associate Dean, Faculty of Liberal Arts & Sciences and School of Interdisciplinary Studies

#LIWYFTTG (Land is Where Your Feet Touch The Ground) is an ongoing curatorial investigation that explores the complexities of territory framed through Indigenous experience, creative memory and acknowledgement of home and land within the urban landscape of Tkaronto.

The possibilities obtained by teasing out Indigenous narratives affords land-based opportunities to exist and flourish on the ground we share as a means to symbolically reclaim relationship to the land and origins of Tkaronto as an Indigenous place.

#LIWYFTTG was supported by the Toronto Arts Council, with funding from the City of Toronto in 2018.